Grand Lisboa wins “Best Hotel Group Wine List” and 8 more prestigious honours from China’s Wine List of The Year 2020

Mr. Paul Lo, F&B Director for Grand Lisboa Hotel is inducted into the Hall of Fame and invited to be a judge for the 12th China National Sommelier Competition

(Macau, 27 October 2020) Grand Lisboa Hotel has garnered the prestigious title of “Best Hotel Group Wine List – Outstanding” from China’s Wine List of the Year Awards 2020, while also earning “Best Luxury Fine Wine Cellar List” and “Best Listing of German Wines”. Mr. Paul Lo, Director of Food & Beverage for Grand Lisboa Hotel, who was honoured as most “Outstanding F&B Director” last year, was inducted into the “Hall of Fame” and invited to be a judge for the 12th China National Sommelier Competition.

For a second consecutive year, all four of the signature restaurants at Grand Lisboa – Robuchon au Dôme, The 8, The Kitchen and Casa Don Alfonso – earned the highest rating of the “3 Glass Award”. The Michelin three-star Robuchon au Dôme, which was first inducted into the highly coveted “China’s Wine List of the Year – Hall of Fame” in 2013, reclaimed its title for an impressive 8 years in a row.

Grand Lisboa Hotel earned “Best Hotel Group Wine List – Outstanding” for offering an extraordinary selection of more than 17,000 wine labels at each of its award-winning signature restaurants. The hotel, which ranks among the best in the region for its magnificent wine cellars, also received the title of “Best Luxury Fine Wine Cellar List” for housing more than 500,000 bottles of wine. For a second consecutive year, the hotel earned recognition as offering the “Best Listing of German Wines”.

China’s Wine List of the Year also inducted Mr. Lo into its “Hall of Fame” and invited him to be a judge for the 12th China National Sommelier Competition. Organised by the Asian Wine Institute, the China National Sommelier Competition is committed to improving the knowledge and service levels of Chinese sommeliers, encouraging youths to devote themselves to the sommelier industry and to broaden the influence of sommeliers.
