

Press release

SJM receives highest culinary accolades from the MICHELIN Guide Hong Kong Macau for 16 consecutive years

(Macau, 14 March 2024) Grand Lisboa Palace Resort Macau ("Grand Lisboa Palace") hosted the MICHELIN Guide Hong Kong Macau 2024 press conference today, and SJM Resorts, S.A. ("SJM") is honoured to earn the highest recognition for the 16th consecutive year. In Macau, Robuchon au Dôme at Grand Lisboa Macau ("Grand Lisboa") recaptured its three MICHELIN Star honour. The Chinese fine-dining restaurant, The 8, is awarded two MICHELIN Stars this year, marking its 16th consecutive year of distinction. In Hong Kong, L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon, under the management of SJM's parent company Sociedade de Turismo e Diversões de Macau, S.A. ("STDM"), has also received three MICHELIN Stars for 13 consecutive years.

Ms. Daisy Ho, Managing Director of SJM, extended her gratitude to SJM's culinary team and expressed, "Apart from cultivating our own signature flair and culinary excellence in wine and dining, we have always had another paramount mission in mind—to advance Macau's standing as a UNESCO-recognised Creative City of Gastronomy. We aim to bring onboard the world's leading chefs, nurture local F&B talents, and firmly position Macau on the international culinary map as a gastronomic haven." She added, "To this end, SJM will not rest on our laurels but will innovate and chart new frontiers. We have solid plans to introduce a plethora of new restaurants as part of our commitment to Macau, adding depth and diversity to the Lisboa culinary brand."

SJM and its parent company, STDM, have a long history of setting the bar for Macau's gastronomy landscape. As early as 2001, the Group invited the collaboration of internationally acclaimed Chef Joël Robuchon to introduce two French fine-dining restaurants in Macau and Hong Kong. These establishments became instant successes and revolutionised the city's high-end restaurant scene. Since the launch of the first edition of the "MICHELIN Guide Hong Kong Macau 2009", Robuchon au Dôme and L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon have consistently been on the coveted three MICHELIN Stars list for 16 and 13 consecutive years respectively, attesting to their outstanding standards. When the Grand Lisboa first opened in 2007, SJM debuted its own restaurant brand "The 8," showcasing the essence of Cantonese cuisine and the distinctive flavours of Macau on the world stage. The restaurant has since maintained its starred status for 16 consecutive years.

SJM's Robuchon au Dôme and The 8, together with L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon, manage by SJM's parent company STDM, have collectively retained Michelin stars for years.

Robuchon au Dôme receives the coveted three-star award for the 16th consecutive year.

The Chinese fine-dining restaurant, The 8, is awarded two MICHELIN Stars this year.