Bring Star Power to Macau’s Tennis Week*

(Macau, 6 December 2025) The 2025 CTA Tour SJM Professional Finals (Macau) and National Tennis Championships returns to the city from 1 to 7 December, bringing together elite athletes, rising stars and a vibrant community of tennis fans. In its fifth consecutive year as title sponsor, SJM Resorts, S.A. (“SJM”) introduces the “Tennis for All” series today (6 December), creating a spotlight moment where sport and star power share the same stage. Internationally renowned tennis legend Li Na, CTA Finals Ambassador Wu Chun, Hong Kong artist and tennis devotee Alex Lam, and Hong Kong’s first two-time junior Grand Slam champion and National Games Men’s Singles tennis bronze medalist Coleman Wong headlined this special programme, reinforcing Macau’s standing as a dynamic host city for major regional sporting events.

“Tennis for All: Fans Meet-and-Greet Event”

– Bringing Tennis Legends Closer to the Public

At 12:00 p.m. on 6 December, Li Na, Wu Chun, Alex Lam, and Coleman Wong greeted fans at the 2nd Floor of the Grand Lisboa Palace Resort Macau during the “Tennis for All: Fans Meet-and-Greet Event”. Fans enjoyed close interaction and autograph opportunities ahead of the exhibition match later in the afternoon.

“Tennis for All: Celebrity & Elite Players Exhibition Match”

– A Crossover Duel on Court

At 3:00 p.m. the excitement shifted to the Macau Tennis Academy, where the Celebrity & Elite Players Exhibition Match brought a rare pairing to the court. Li Na teamed up with Ambassador Wu Chun against tennis rising-star Coleman Wong and multi-talented artist Alex Lam in a dynamic one-set, no-advantage format with a deciding “golden point” at deuce. This special showcase offers spectators a fresh angle on the sport, blending professional athleticism with celebrity flair. A lucky draw was also held, offering attractive prizes to spectators.

During the match, Li Na shared on-court insights drawn from her Grand Slam experience; Coleman Wong demonstrated the speed and power of the new generation of professional players; while Wu Chun and Alex Lam showcased the enthusiasm and athleticism of non-professional tennis lovers, bringing an extra layer of interaction to the showcase. The cross-disciplinary pairings embodied the spirit of tennis — perseverance, learning and collective progress.

“Tennis has always been more than a competitive sport — it is a discipline that helps people reflect, recharge and find inner strength,” said tennis legend Li Na, noting her delight at returning to Macau. “It is truly inspiring to see so many young people engaging with the sport with such enthusiasm and dedication.”

Reflecting on the collaborative exhibition match, Coleman Wong added, “It is a special opportunity to share the court with international athletes and friends from different sectors. I hope this experience motivates more young people in Hong Kong and Macau to discover the appeal of tennis and to keep striving toward their dreams.”

SJM will continue to collaborate with international sports organizations and local partners to deliver inspiring and culturally enriching sports programmes, leveraging the power of sports to strengthen community bonds, encourage cultural exchange and promote positive values.
